

Flood Insurance? – But Arizona Is A Desert!!

This two hour introduction to flood insurance will remind us that although we live in a desert, we need to understand the basics of flood insurance and how we may be affected by unexpected flooding especially during monsoon season.

The purpose of the National Flood Insurance Program will be reviewed as well as reasons why the purchase of flood insurance should be considered by those living and doing business in the desert. We'll discuss the policies and products available and end with a brief update on the NFIP as well as some current articles that have recently made the news.

The baseball game between the Arizona Diamondbacks and the San Francisco Giants will follow. First pitch is at 6:40 PM.
